BRISTOL WILL BE MECCA FOR 40 'N' 8 SESSIONS, SUNDAY

Voyageurs and Women Guests to Partake of Dinner

PLAN A MOTOR TOUR

Guest of Honor Will Be Sidney M. Ferree, Chef de Chemin de Fer

Voyageurs and their women guests, Southeast District, 40 'N' 8, will make Bristol their mecca Sunday when they will assemble here for a conference. Following the conference there will be a dinner in St. Mark's hall, adjacent to the home of Robert W. Bracken Post, No. 382, American Legion.

Delegates are expected from Bucks, Montgomery, Lehigh, Luzerne, Delaware, Northampton counties and from Philadelphia. There will be visitors from New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland. The conference will be closed to the public, but tickets for the dinner are available to the public, at Bracken Post Home.

Invited guests will include: Burgess Jacob C. Schmidt, Chief of Police Linford J. Jones, Fire Chief Hagerman, Chief Bucks County Detective Anthony Russo and others.

The guest of honor will be Sidney M. Ferree, Chef de Chemin de Fer, of Louisville, Ky.

During the conference the visiting women will be taken on a motor caravan tour to "Pennsbury."

Ferree is leading the Forty and Eight, as Chef de Fer this year. He was elected to the highest office at the Promenade Nationale in San Francisco last October, following 25 years of service in the work of the Legion and the Forty and Eight.

Born in Louisville, Ky., on October 26, 1889, Ferree was educated in the public schools of that city. He left high school to enlist in the Kentucky National Guard during the Mexican trouble in 1916.

On the Mexican border he served as a mess sergeant in Company "G," 1st Kentucky Infantry of the 10th Infantry Division, and was the youngest member of that organization. He was stationed at Fort Bliss, Texas, doing border patrol at Clint, Fabens and Fort Hancock, Texas.

While serving on the border, hostilities with Germany began and Ferree was assigned to the 138th Field Artillery of the newly formed 38th (Cyclone) Division. He was sent to Fort Sill, Oklahoma, for advanced field artillery training and upon his return to his regiment was made First Sergeant of "F" Battery.

Minstrel Troupe Presents Show at Tilton Hospital

Twenty-three were in the party which visited Tilton General Hospital, Fort Dix, N. J., to entertain patients on Sunday. The group was composed mainly of members of American Legion Auxiliary, Robert W. Bracken Post.

SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL
"The Gentleman from Indiana"

Here are some of the things that Russia and her puppet states have gotten out of the war. No doubt, more will be revealed when our government finally decides to take us into its full confidence.

Treaty with Italy: $100,000,000 to be paid to Russia; $125,000,000 to Yugoslavia; two-thirds of the Province of Venezia Giulia to Yugoslavia; Trieste converted into a Free Territory with a government under the United Nations.

Treaty with Hungary: $200,000,000 to be paid to Russia; $50,000,000 to Yugoslavia; $50,000,000 to Czechoslovakia; Northern Transylvania ceded to Rumania.

Treaty with Rumania: $300,000,000 to be paid to Russia; Northern Bukovina and Bessarabia ceded to Russia; Southern Dobruja ceded to Bulgaria.

Treaty with Bulgaria: $25,000,000 to be paid to Yugoslavia.

Treaty with Finland: $300,000,000 to be paid to Russia; her chief port of Petsamo ceded to Russia.

The Yalta Agreement (Stalin, Churchill and Roosevelt) The southern half of the Island of Sakhalin and all adjacent islands ceded to Russia. Port Arthur given to Russia as a naval base; the port of Dairen internationalized with the interests of Russia made dominant; the Chinese Eastern Railroad and the South Manchurian Railroad to be jointly operated by a Russian.

HERE AND THERE IN BUCKS COUNTY TOWNS

Activities of Interest To All in The Various Communities

GLEANED BY SCRIBES

Miss Rita Sutterly, 23, of New Hope, a few nights ago suffered injuries of a minor nature when she fell making her escape from a man who held up her escort at the point of a knife in Trenton, N. J. Miss Sutterly was given treatment at Mercer Hospital, Trenton.

The young woman had alighted from a parked car with her escort, Donald Sherman, 24, Rosemont, N. J., and as they were walking a short distance from police headquarters in Trenton they saw a soldier following them. Suddenly he caught up to them and blocked their path.

"This is a holdup," the girl later quoted the soldier as saying. Mr. Sherman and his companion were ordered to stand against the wall of a house, and Miss Sutterly dropped her handbag.

"Pick that up," the soldier ordered the girl, but her companion told her to run. She complied with the latter order, and it was while making her escape she fell.

Trenton police, who were summoned, arrested a man who gave the name of T/Sgt. Hilton Brannon, Fort Dix, N. J.

Among the people visiting Doylestown at the present time is an outstanding Australian athlete, who was eight times cyclist champion of "the country down under," and 16

MARRIAGE LICENSES RISE DURING APRIL

Advance 20 Over The Previous Month Says Orphan's Court Clerk

FEWER DIVORCED FOLK

DOYLESTOWN, May 7.—With the issuing of 122 April marriage licenses in the Orphans Court Office here, Clerk Leona H. Lattor to-day said that exactly 20 more licenses were issued than for the month previous. Statistics indicate that 102 were granted in February.

Deputy Clerk of Orphans Court

Joseph A. Keating, who said fewer of the men and women applying for marriage licenses were divorced than in previous months, explained that 14 men and women had been granted divorces.

Fifty-four of the 244 men and women came from Philadelphia. There were 18 applicants from Bristol, nine from Doylestown, and five from Perkasie. Seven applicants came from New Jersey.

The youngest couple was a Quakertown, RD 2, boy and girl, both of whom had the same address, and were 17 years old.

The oldest male applicant was a 70-year-old Haverford swimmer, who was courting a 54-year-old sweetheart. There was another young couple, the Hattboro girl being 17 and her Willow Grove husband-to-be being 17.

There were two applicants from Michigan, and a 21-year-old sailor from Illinois.

Eight girls were between 19 and 21, and nine boys ranged from 19 to 21 years of age.

The range of ages of the applicants follows:

20 to 30 years, 33 men and women; 30 to 40 years, 27 men and women; 40 to 50, seven men and women; 50 to 60, five men and women, and 70-75, one man.

CHARLES L. GERLACH

The death of Congressman Charles L. Gerlach has removed from the Bucks-Lehigh District a man who will be missed both for what he was and what he did.

America was truly the land of opportunity during the times when men could rise, as Congressman Gerlach did, lifting themselves by their own bootstraps out of poverty and obscurity into financial success and responsible public position.

Mr. Gerlach was born poor, and died an officer in a well-to-do business which he had helped to found. He grew up with little schooling, and died a well-read man, with a broad knowledge of the world and its works. He built, out of the wreckage of three successive defeats, the political strength to wrest the office of Congressman from an entrenched opposition, and hold it successfully through five elections in a row.

The day of his death, the National Congress paused for an hour to hear eulogies of a man who, had he been content to live the life into which he had been born, would have never been heard of beyond his own neighborhood.

Flags at the National Capital fluttered to half-staff for a man who refused to be dismayed by early discouragements—who found the Open Doors of his native land and carved out his own niche in life.

A delegation of fellow-Congressmen was officially designated for the funeral of a man who had started out as an obscure apprentice in a steel plant.

The energy, independence and stick-to-it-iveness of Mr. Gerlach was shown equally well in his personal affairs and his political career.

When still a youth, he began as machinist's apprentice in the Bethlehem Steel Company plant, Bethlehem, and later at the Traylor Engineering Company in Allentown. So well did he fit himself into this work that he rose to assistant superintendent.

But working for someone else did not satisfy him. From his savings, he became a co-founder of a hay, grain and feed concern which, through the years, gradually expanded into other lines and became a flourishing business. He was serving as treasurer of this concern at the time of his death.

His political career began with his interest in a Republican club in Allentown, where he became an officer. In 1925, in 1931, and again in 1935, he made unsuccessful bids for various Lehigh County offices.

Extra Rehearsals Held By Band for Musicales

With the spring concert to be presented Thursday and Friday evenings at Bristol high school, all organizations are working diligently to assure the public two musical evenings of unusual interest. Regular rehearsals are being supplemented by two special rehearsals this week.

Both Charles Quigley and J. Paul Nuse are especially anxious to present a program of uninterrupted music. Such details as vacating the stage by the choir for the band's offerings are being carefully checked for possible "dead time." A ten-minute intermission will provide audience relaxation and a chance to make a major substitution of organizations.

With the band in the pit, the choir and chorus will combine to present a fine arrangement of "Old Black Joe." Mr. Nuse will direct the combined clubs in this presentation.

Another number of enjoyment features the trumpet playing of Horace Hinds. "Willow Echoes," scored for solo trumpet and band, offers much difficult music for both soloist and band. From the opening cadenza to the closing measure each listener will be amply rewarded with the full trumpet tone, technique, and musicianship of Horace Hinds.

To assure seats for all, tickets available from any music club student, can be purchased for either Thursday or Friday night's concert. Thursday night tickets cannot be honored Friday evening, however.

KEEN INTEREST SHOWN IN HISTORICAL PAPERS

550 Acres of Bolton Farm Told of, Also Work to Which It Is Devoted

COUNTY MAPS SHOWN

The Bolton Farm, near Emille, was the subject of one of the papers presented on Saturday at the meeting of Bucks County Historical Society at Doylestown.

This paper was read by Horace Mather Lippincott, of Chestnut Hill, who described the farm of 319 acres in Bristol township, that was left to the University of Pennsylvania as a gift for the development of the School of Veterinary Medicine. In 1946 a handsome colonial house of great historical distinction, plus about 20 acres of land which were reserved when the original gift was made, was purchased by the trustees of the university.

Organized essentially for research, and not for teaching, the school will investigate diseases of wild and domestic animals, particularly with regard to the transmission of those diseases from animal to man, and vice versa. In addition, newer problems are constantly arising in the various sections of the country, such as an invasion of Rocky Mountain spotted fever traceable to dog ticks, and tularemia, a form of blood poisoning contracted from handling rabbits.

"It is not too much to say that this magnificent Bucks county estate of 550 beautiful acres with its splendid buildings and handsome

MANY TOPICS ARE CONSIDERED BY SCHOOL BOARD

Board is Requested to Ask State to Pay a Part of Lifeguards' Salaries

RE-ELECT TREASURER

Board Rules That Teachers Must Hold Luncheons Outside School Hours

It was a varied agenda for the Bristol School Board, last night, meeting in the May session. Earl McEuen, president, presided and the session did not adjourn until about 12:15 this morning.

The Board agreed to apply to the State for funds equal to two-thirds of the salaries of a swimming instructor and two lifeguards for Silver Lake. The Board Donors will pay the other one-third out of funds which they are now collecting. The men will be employed from May 30 to September 4. The request was placed before the School Board on behalf of the Blood Donors by the Rev. Edward G. Yeomans, pastor of the Bristol Presbyterian church and chairman of the Civic Committee of the Bristol Chamber of Commerce.

The Board objected to the hours set by the Blood Donors which were from one to six, each afternoon, that the guards and instructor would be on duty. It was the Board's suggestion that the hours be: One guard from one to six, one guard from three to eight and the instructor from 10 to 12 and from one to four. The men will be paid $52.50 per week of seven days. The State will be asked to pay $1470 and the Blood Donors $735 for the season.

It was reported that the rope had again been tampered with at the high school flag pole.

Vincent Faragalli, police officer, requested use of the Beaver street school building, after it is vacated by the present tenant. He desires to establish a meeting place for boys of the area. No action was taken as the building is still occupied.

President McEuen offered about 30 letters written by students of the Jefferson Avenue building requesting that the playground of that school be made usable and offering to clean up the yard if the School Board would then have the balance of the work done. This was referred to the Property Committee to report at next meeting.

The Rev. Lehman Straus, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, appeared before the Board and expressed a desire to rent the Wood street building for an hour and a half in which to hold Sunday services. The Calvary church has to vacate the building which it now occupies and while a site has been purchased on Green Lane for a new church building, operations have not as yet started and the proposed building will not be completed for several months.

Rev. Straus also asked the use of the high school auditorium for a Sunday in October when he plans to conduct a service with the Rev. Gill Boddie, champion distance runner, as the speaker. This latter request was granted providing it does not conflict with any school affair. Before granting the use of the Wood street building the Board desires to look up the law upon this matter.

Permission was granted the V. F. W. cadets drum and bugle corps, to practice in the Wood street school yard was granted for two evenings a week. A protest was filed with

Demands Reduction of Britain's War Debt

London.—An authoritative government spokesman confirmed today that Chancellor of the Exchequer Hugh Dalton's blunt demand for a reduction in Britain's huge war debts did not concern British financial obligations to the United States. The spokesman said no approach has been made to the United States for modification of the three billion, 750 million dollar loan agreement. Dalton said Britain's mountainous war debts are "unjust and unsupportable and must be very substantially scaled down."

Explosion Followed by Fire at Primos

Primos.—Marked by several explosions destroyed a shed in the yard of the Primos Coal Co. in Delaware County, today, turning tons of coal into ashes. The wooden structure, 75-feet wide and 200-feet long, was rocked by a loud explosion and then immediately enveloped by flames. The fire reached four oil and gasoline drums, touching off several more blasts. A ten-ton truck trailer and two other vehicles also were destroyed.</

HELP WHERE IT'S NEEDED

The predominance of fictional films in this country, and the over-emphasis placed by Hollywood spokesmen on "pure entertainment" in the movies, make it hard for Americans to realize the wide potential usefulness of educational and documentary films.
The possibilities in this field have hardly been touched.

But the showing of the film
"Decision" by the American Red Cross in many cities illustrates one way in which a motion picture
may render unique service.

American families who have lost sons in the war have to make a decision. Shall they leave the bodies of their loved ones abroad, where they were buried, or shall
they have them reinterred here?
Without trying to influence this decision unduly, "Decision" helps such families to visualize exactly what it means.

The film is reported to show
what foreign cemeteries for American service men are like, what care they receive, and what bringing a body back involves for the persons concerned. Whatever decision is made after viewing it will be an informed one, less likely to lead to regrets later.

There are a thousand other fields in which movies yet unmade could help the perplexed in making decisions—or to avoid reaching wrong ones because it was difficult to visualize what they involved.

SIX MEN ON A RAFT

Tossing on the waves of the South Pacific today is a raft similar to those used by the prehistoric Indians of Peru. It is 50 feet long, 20 feet wide, made of cork-like balsa wood, equipped with a clumsy square sail and an oar for rudder. The six young scientists aboard it hope to make Tahiti by mid-August.

A raft may seem a strange ocean-going vessel. But the men,
like Huck Finn and Tom Sawyer
when they braved the Mississippi, are counting on the current to take them where they're going.
The sail is merely to get them
back on their course if they drift away from the Humboldt current before they reach their destination.

It is their theory that the storied South Sea islands were first inhabited by South American aborigines who, in rafts like this one, drifted by accident or design until they struck land. If the feat can be performed today, the theory
will gain prestige.

Floating under a blazing Pacific sun for months on end will hardly be the lark it may seem to those currently in the grip of spring fever. But these men will have plenty to do — making oceanographic observations, testing Navy life-saving and communications equipment, operating their two-way radio, catching fish for supper.

They'll have a story to tell when they come home.

To improve quality of restaurant pie apples may be soaked in a solution of calcium chloride, it is announced, instead of the usual formaldehyde.

Three such defeats in a row might have taken the steam out of another man, but Mr. Gerlach was not discouraged. He made his bid again in 1938, this time for Congressman.

Those were dark days for his party. Only two years before, the New Deal had swept all the nation except Maine and Vermont. The Little New Deal was entrenched at Harrisburg.
The Congressional seat of the district had been held for three terms by a Democrat.

Nevertheless, Mr. Gerlach was victorious. He was part of the Republican shock-troopers of that year who, on Pennsylvania soil, turned the tide against the New Deal and since have steadily advanced their Party in national power until with Mr.
Gerlach's last re-election, it regained control of both houses of Congress.

As a Congressman, Mr. Gerlach's position was that of independent Republican. He rarely joined in floor debates on the various issues, but was known as extremely active in Washington on behalf of his district and his constituents.

His campaigns were straightforward and business-like. He indulged in no personalities. Even in the campaign of last year, when he was singled out for especially vicious attacks on the basis of garbled versions of his voting record, he made no attempt at a rejoinder in kind.

He staked his chances for re-election on the proposition that his record itself was sufficient reply. In his words:

"In the eight years I have been in Congress, I have honestly and sincerely voted, after careful study, for what I believed to be the best interests of the majority of my constituents and of the people of the United States."

Vindication of both his record and his unwillingness to get into a "smear" campaign came when the votes were counted, and he was found to have swept the district by 14,000 votes.

Chinese company; the Kurile Islands ceded to Russia. China was not consulted in making this agreement but the President of the United States undertook to force Chiang Kai-Shek to yield.

The Potsdam Agreement (Stalin, Attlee and Truman) Poland partitioned without the consent of the Polish government—previously recognized by the allies—a Russian puppet Polish government installed and recognized; Russia given a free hand to seize as reparations anything in the Russian zone in Germany. In addition, Russia given as reparations, 25% of metallurgical, chemical and machine manufacturing industries located in the Western zone occupied by Britain, France and the United States; 10% of all other industrial capital equipment in the Western zones which were considered unnecessary for the German peace economy; to maintain German living standards, not exceeding those of other European countries; Russia's boundaries moved westward. The city of Koenigsberg and adjacent territory to be ceded to Russia. Millions of Germans moved out of the territories given to Poland and Russia. Britain and the United States surrender all claims to German assets in East Germany, Bulgaria, Finland, Hungary, Rumania and eastern Austria; Germany's merchant ships and fishing fleets to be divided, etc.

These are some of the things we have actually agreed to give Russia.
In addition, Russia has seized territories with more than 30,000,000 people, and Mr. Roosevelt agreed that she could keep millions of German prisoners of war as slave laborers. Add, also, supplies by way of lend-lease totalling $11,269,343,663, much of which will be useful to Russia in peace as well as war.

It is true, of course, that Russia suffered more than any allied nation
although scarcely at all in her one-week's war with Japan. However, if we were hard-headed and not soft-brained, we would recognize that Russia helped both Germany and Japan with non-aggression
treaties—that Stalin and Molotov watched, with complete indifference, Hitler's conquest of Western Europe, and probably would never have turned a hand if Hitler had not forced Stalin to fight.

HIGHWAY SAFETY
URGED

This community has been exceptionally fortunate in having had a smaller proportion of automobile accidents than would be found in most other communities similarly populous. There is transported by school buses daily to the schools in the Langhorne community, no less than 450 pupils. Many of these pupils wait along the road for the school bus to pick them up and transport them to the school where they have been assigned.

Children naturally are active and find some kind of pleasurable recreational activity while waiting for the bus. Parents are urged to point out to their children the danger of playing on the public highway. Fast-moving motor vehicles cannot come to a stop readily, and therefore, the lives of pupils are endangered when they play on the macadamized part of the road. The teachers and the bus drivers are continually urging pupils to remain off of the macadamized part of the road until the bus arrives.

The support of parents in this matter is needed to buttress what has been urged by the school officials. I hope that every parent will go his part to see that our excellent record of no accidents to pupils in transit to or from school continues.

mittee consisting of Miss Longshore,
Mrs. Nixon and Mrs. Joseph Briggs, was instructed to prepare a resolution to be sent to President Truman asking that the atom bomb control
be placed under the United Nations.

Miss Almira S. Field, Bensalem
evangelistic director, led the noon-tide prayer. Sixteen members of the local union helped make the lunch-
oon period pleasant.

The Rev. Howard W. Adams, pastor of Somerset Methodist Church, conducted the afternoon prayer service. He spoke of the value of legislative measures, but of their futility unless a true religious spirit permeates society.

Mrs. Norman Kratz, Warrington
Union, who heads the White Ribbon Recruits in Bucks, conducted a dedication service. White ribbon bows were tied on the wrists of eight youngsters, four of whom were grandchildren of Warrington's president, Mrs. Reuben Martin—namely, Evelyn, Margaret and Paul Fry, and Dale Wunscher. The other four were grandchildren of Mrs.

Mrs. Vernon Hastings, state director of legislation, arrived from Philadelphia to give a talk on Harrisburg and Washington legislative measures which deal with the drink
evil and Sabbath breaking tendency, and the strong trend toward many types of gambling. She thought the slogan used many years ago by Frances E. Willard—"Educate, agitate, legislate"—is still vital. "Pennsylvania is the only one of the 48 states where the moral forces are united for systematic action. Some 36 groups like Anti-Slavery League, Ministerial Associations, the P. T. A.,
the Grange, the Lord's Day Alliance, and the W. C. T. U. meet four times yearly to draft bills, to study proposed legislation, etc." She strongly urged that clubs should be included in quotas for licenses. She also hoped that congress will pass the Capper measure which would curtail liquor "ads" in interstate commerce.

Miss Loraine Ramsey gave two vocal solos, "The Star-Spangled Banner" and "The Lord's Prayer."
Mrs. J. J. Franco, of Trevese, accompanied her. Miss Margaret Kratz, of Warrington, played the organ for group singing.

The last hour of the Institute was devoted to a talk given by a representative of the "A. A." (Alcoholics Anonymous). Information included:
"This movement was born some 13 years ago. It now exists in 15 countries and has some 40,000 people in its circles. It deals with men and women, old or young, rich or poor, of any race or creed. It deals only with the person who is possessed with a desire for drink which he can no longer control. The A. A.
knows one cannot legislate sobriety.
The alcoholic is a really sick person.
He must become willing to rid himself of hates, resentments, fears,
lying—must be changed physically, mentally and spiritually. There are 10 A. A. groups in and around Philadelphia."

"In the friendship of these groups
the alcoholic finds understanding and gains new hope from hearing of others' recovery, and soon he finds faith in the future. The 12 steps in their come-back cover the willingness to make a searching inventory of themselves and to yield completely to a Power higher than themselves and to try to make amends to those whom they have harmed."

Adjudged Guilty of $200 Robbery; Defer Sentence

Examined for an alleged mental condition with which he became affected while serving 5 years in the Eastern State Penitentiary on a burglary charge. Manzo pleaded guilty yesterday to stealing $200 in cash from a Bristol home after breaking into the cellar. The defendant's mother, it was testified, as paid back the money stolen.

Mrs. Manzo testified that her son was mentally ill and that he needed care. She stated that she had placed him in a private osteopathic hospital at Willow Grove but that she could not keep up the charges of over $40 a week.

Howard T. Weissenger, of Croydon, was sentenced by Judge Keller to pay the costs within 30 days, after he had pleaded guilty to hitting his wife, Mary, on April 5, at their home, during a family argument. The defendant was then discharged.

One of the most despicable cases heard in the Bucks county court in some time was that of William A. Clarkson, 21, of 304 North Easton road, Willow Grove, in Judge Keller's court yesterday afternoon.

Clarkson pleaded guilty to seduction and to contributing to the delinquency of a minor. He was sentenced to pay the costs and serve one year in the Bucks County Prison, with a chance at parole at the end of six months if his behavior during the meantime warrants.

A member of the "52-20" club for two years in the Navy, Clarkson, whose mother and father are separated, was living in a small apartment at Willow Grove, unemployed.

He admitted that he met 16-year-old Mary Tice, a ward of the Philadelphia court who had been living with a lady in Warminster in her custody for the past 10 years. Clarkson said that he met the girl at the Covies one afternoon.

Warminster police received a call on April 8 over the radio police car from Hatboro that the Tice girl, 16, had been missing from the Carr home in Warminster. She had been missing for three days.

Willow Grove police arrested Clarkson on April 9 as he was entering his apartment with the 16-year-old Tice girl.

Chief of Police Stewart A. Munro of the Warminster Township police, testified that he had questioned Clarkson at length.

Clarkson admitted that he slept with the little girl in his apartment for two nights and a third night was spent with her in a rented cabin at Langhorne. He admitted that twice he had illicit relations with the girl, and that they had discussed marriage.

The investigation brought out the fact that Miss Tice had a good record up until the time she met Clarkson, and that Clarkson's brother was in the county court here some time ago on a similar charge when he was sentenced to White Hill for illicit relations with another Philadelphia ward.

"You are not safe to be around women," Judge Keller commented as he sentenced Clarkson to the Bucks County Prison for one year. Judge Keller also directed the authorities to investigate who rented a cabin at Langhorne to Clarkson and the young girl, and to report accordingly.

Judge Keller deferred sentence in the case of William Rasento, of Phila., charged with burglary of a lumber yard safe at Cornwells Heights when $61.72 in change was stolen and a $200 safe completely ruined. The defendant who lives at 3314 Disston st., Phila., is 28, married, and has a child. He was arrested in Delaware county on another charge but was acquitted. He is however, wanted on a charge in Philadelphia, and the court deferred sentence until after the Philadelphia case has been disposed of. Rasento served in the Coast Artillery in 1936 and was taken out of the service because of his trade that was essential to the war effort—electric crane operator.

Judge Keller yesterday suspended sentence in the case of George Herzog, Jr., of Honesdale, Pa., on condition that he pay $25 in lieu of a fine to the county of Bucks and the costs. He pleaded guilty to carrying a firearm without a license when he was arrested in Doylestown Borough on April 9 by Patrolman Clarence Irwin of the Doylestown police.

Herzog, with three friends, was stopped in Doylestown and questioned after they had acted suspiciously at Plumsteadville, while on their way to Philadelphia to "see the sights."

Herzog admitted to Judge Keller that he had with him an automatic pistol that he brought home with him from Italy while in the service, and that he had it in the glove case of his car.

Outstanding character witnesses were presented in behalf of Herzog, who testified that he had an excellent reputation and that he was now attending high school at Waymart, Pa., near Honesdale under the GI Bill of Rights. His father, a barber living in Honesdale, is a veteran of World War No. 1. Herzog was represented in court by Arthur M. Eastburn, of Doylestown. One of Herzog's character witnesses was William C. Varcoe, of Wycombe, a former resident of Honesdale.

William Streissguth, 18-year-old Nockamixon Township High School student, and ex-GI who has been completing his education after 18 months in the Navy, pleaded guilty before Judge Hiram H. Keller to a charge of burglarizing the home of Harry Black at Riegelsville on April 4 this year.

Streissguth, who lives at Kintnersville with his mother, Mrs. Agnes Peters, admitted stealing $40 in cash and a $40 government check belonging to Black. The money and check was in a small box in Black's home. The defendant was arrested by Trooper J. J. Shovelin of the State Police and County Detective William L. Stackhouse, of Doylestown.

Streissguth, who has been receiving $65 per month from the Government under the GI Bill while attending school, was committed by Judge Keller to the Pennsylvania State Industrial School at White Hill, Pa.

When are YOU going to the hospital?

Do you know that the chances are 1 to 10 that you will go to the hospital in the next year?

Do you know that hospital bills have nearly doubled during the past five years?

Will you be able to pay your hospital bill without financial inconvenience?

Are you one of those people who say "I just don't think about hospital bills; I'll worry about them when I get them?"

1,100,000 persons in the Philadelphia area are convinced that this attitude doesn't make sense. They know that worry over hospital bills won't speed recovery, or help pay the bill. Instead, they choose to belong to the Blue Cross.

Why do they choose to belong to the Blue Cross? Blue Cross is prepaid hospitalization—voluntary, non-profit and community-sponsored. In return for only a few cents a day—Blue Cross will pay hospital bills for you and your family.

Blue Cross provides you with actual hospital services—not money which becomes worth less and less as prices go up.

Does it pay to belong to Blue Cross? Just recently Blue Cross paid an individual hospital bill of $4,310. This is exceptional, but bills of $200 to $500 are common. The Philadelphia Blue Cross pays a hospital bill every seven minutes, and during the past eight years has paid 400,000 of them.

No wonder more people are joining Blue Cross today than ever before... 25,000 in April alone!

The patient had no bill to pay

Here is the case of a Blue Cross member who was in the hospital with appendicitis for only 10 days. The charges were:

Room and Board—semi-private 10 days @ $6.50	$ 65.00
Laboratory	3.00
Operating Room	10.00
Anesthesia	10.00
Medications (including penicillin and oxygen)	136.50
Total	$224.50

All these services were provided under the Blue Cross member's contract.

In 1918, Ferree, went overseas with his Division, landing in Le Havre, France. Additional training in the use of the French 75 instead of the American three inch guns was necessary before his organization could go into the lines and it was being moved to the front when the Armistice was signed.

Returning to Louisville after discharge, Ferree took up his interrupted education at night school, played professional football, semi-professional baseball and re-enlisted in the National Guard. He immediately became a member of Jefferson Post of The American Legion and has been continuously active in the work of the Legion since that time.

He has served the Legion in many capacities and offices, as Adjutant, Athletic Officer and Vice-Commander of his Post, and as chairman of local, state and national committees.

Becoming a member of Jefferson County Volume 496, the Forty and Eight, in 1927, Ferree has held virtually every office in the Volume and in the Grande Vulture of Kentucky. While Chief de Gare of his local Volume in 1940, he inaugurated many programs, some of which have become permanent activities. In 1942, as Grand Chief de Train in charge of membership for Kentucky, he won the national trophy for the largest percentage of increase in membership.

Elected Grand Chief de Gare of Kentucky for 1944, he gave the state organization vigorous leadership during that difficult year. One of his most outstanding successes was the "Phone Home Fund" which paid for long distance telephone calls to their homes for wounded men arriving at hospitals in Kentucky from the battle areas. Under his general chairmanship, more than $60,000 was raised for this fund in exactly 60 days. He received the American Legion Certificate of Distinguished Service, and was sent by the national organization of the Forty and Eight to Indiana and Iowa where he organized similar programs.

Another highly successful activity developed by Ferree during his year as Kentucky's Grand Chief is the annual Kentucky Turtle Derby. In two years this race of thoroughbred Ohio River turtles has enabled the Louisville Volume to turn over $17,000 to the Society for Kentucky Crippled Children.

His only son, Sidney M. Ferree, Jr., served in the European theatre with the First, Third and Ninth Armies, and wears five major combat stars along with the Infantryman's Combat Badge. He, too, is an active member of Jefferson Post of the American Legion.

Charter Presented The Lincoln Highway Club

SOUTH LANGHORNE, May 7—A charter was presented to Bucks County Lincoln Highway Kiwanis Club in Trenton, N. J., last evening, when a dinner was served in the ballroom of the Hotel Hildebrecht.

The local club is said to be the first Kiwanis club in the nation sponsored by clubs of two different states, the Old York Road club of Penna., and the Trenton, N. J. club. Unique in another respect, the club boasts of the largest starting membership enjoyed by any Kiwanis club—61. The membership is now listed at 76.

The club, which was organized March 11, this year, had its charter presented last evening by two state Kiwanis club governors, Charles F. Block, of New Jersey, and Annon S. Rosenberger, of Pennsylvania.

The charter was presented to H. A. Waldkneig, president of the Bucks County Lincoln Highway Club.

Gifts presented to the club included a secretary's kit, gavel and bell, American and Canadian national flags, and Kiwanis banner.

Introductions were by Lt. Governor D. Lester Diehl, who served as toastmaster. The invocation was by the Rev. Robert H. Rodisch, pastor of Laughton Methodist Church.

On the list of speakers were: Raymond A. Gaul, past district governor, of Reading; Edward Lamar, president of Trenton Kiwanis Club; and Edward D. Johnson, who accepted the gifts.

Entertainment included special acts by dancers, musicians, juggler and comedian.

Elected Grand Chief de Gare of Kentucky for 1944, he gave the state organization vigorous leadership during that difficult year. One of his most outstanding successes was the "Phone Home Fund" which paid for long distance telephone calls to their homes for wounded men arriving at hospitals in Kentucky from the battle areas. Under his general chairmanship, more than $60,000 was raised for this fund in exactly 60 days. He received the American Legion Certificate of Distinguished Service, and was sent by the national organization of the Forty and Eight to Indiana and Iowa where he organized similar programs.

Another highly successful activity developed by Ferree during his year as Kentucky's Grand Chief is the annual Kentucky Turtle Derby. In two years this race of thoroughbred Ohio River turtles has enabled the Louisville Volume to turn over $17,000 to the Society for Kentucky Crippled Children.

His only son, Sidney M. Ferree, Jr., served in the European theatre with the First, Third and Ninth Armies, and wears five major combat stars along with the Infantryman's Combat Badge. He, too, is an active member of Jefferson Post of the American Legion.

Many Topics Considered By School Board

The Board by about 15 residents of the vicinity complaining of the noise. The Board is going to ask the cadets to meet earlier in the evening and not to practice so late. Those protesting said that children put to bed early were disturbed by the noise, those working on shift work were also disturbed as well as the services at Bethel A. M. E. Church.

The tentative budget submitted at a meeting held in April was adopted last night. The budget calls for a tax rate of 22 mills and a per capita tax of $5.

John Johnson was re-elected treasurer of the Board for another year.

Resignations were received from Miss Evelyn Stoner, seventh grade teacher and Miss Jean Goff, home economics teacher. Both were accepted.

The board ruled that hereafter all luncheons scheduled by teachers must be held at times other than during school hours. A luncheon is to be held Tuesday afternoon at Scudders Falls, N. J., by the teachers and the schools will be dismissed at noon. This is not to occur hereafter, the Board ruled.

Bogage & Son, jewelry and clothing merchants, advised the Board that they would like to give a watch as an award to one of the graduates. The donor is to be contacted and requested to define for what study the award is to be given.

David Hertzler, high school principal, advised the Board that it is likely the class of 1947 will not hold a class night program.

Directors absent were Dr. George A. Hussey and Robert C. Ruchl.

Keen Interest Shown In Historical Papers

colonial mansion of great historical importance, is one of the finest gifts the University of Pennsylvania has ever received," commented Mr. Lipincott. "It is a fitting memorial to one of Pennsylvania's most loyal sons, Ethingham B. Morris, 75, a fine Christian gentleman and a citizen of distinguished ability."

President Edward R. Barnsley who wrote and presented an interesting paper on "Nineteenth Century Maps of Bucks County," pointed out that among the many treasures to be found in the library of the Bucks County Historical Society is the only complete set anywhere of all the wall maps of Bucks county during the 19th Century. These maps, on exhibition Saturday, would rate, President Barnsley pointed out, as second only in importance to the unique collections of county newspapers—provided that historical values between different kinds of records were capable of comparison. The maps, he pointed out, give a graphic picture of the local scene that is not presented by any other medium.

The first base map of Bucks county was published in 1831 and this valuable little map is very important because it became the ancestor of all subsequent county maps until 1893, when the topographical surveys begun by the United States Geological Survey and the Philadelphia Water Company in 1887 were completed.

A paper on "The Hexenkopf School of Bedminster Township," written by Colonel Calvin I. Kephart, of Arlington, Va., was read by Winfield O. Weisel, of Doylestown. "Pennsylvania was no laggard among the colonies in the provision of educational opportunities for her younger generations," Colonel Kephart wrote. "Fully 75 percent of the Pennsylvania-German pioneers, who included many earlier French Huguenots and a large proportion of Swiss, signed their names on arrival. This represented a higher degree of literacy than prevailed in any other colony. She had by far the greatest number of men with university education, most of them leaders in the various religious denominations, whose names have been inscribed on the pages of Pennsylvania history."

Colonel Kephart's paper mentioned a notable public school in Bucks county at the Hexenkopf (or Witch's Head) School, north of Hagerstown, in Bedminster township, on a short road (since abandoned) of the same name, derived from a peculiar configuration of rocks at its northerly end.

In 1756, Jacob Weisel granted one acre of his land for the erection of this school house. Michael and Jacob Weisel, brothers and sons of the pioneer of this name, were among the trustees of this school, which was maintained by the Weisels and their neighbors for more than 90 years, until tax-supported public schools, when the land on which it stood reverted to the owners of this part of the original plantation. The stone foundation of the old school house was discovered only a few years ago.

The curriculum of this school must be left to the reader's imagination, but he may be assured that it occupied the age-old fundamental subjects of spelling, reading, writing, arithmetic, geography and history. Ordinarily, the communities did not lack persons well enough educated to teach these subjects—the nearly preacher, if none other.

The Weisel family was of Frankish origin in Oberhessen. A member emigrated to the Palatinate during the second half of the 17th Century. Weisel postoffice, near Tohickon Church, was named for the family.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. Arthur D. Sargis
Pastor
Eddington Presbyterian Church

Dear Father, we thank Thee for tomorrow. Only because of Calvary can we really say that "hope springs eternal in the human breast." Apart from Calvary there is no hope for the best. Apart from Calvary we move from despair to a greater despair. Only the spiritually free, whose freedom is found in Christ, can say in the midst of present deep darkness "sunrise tomorrow, sunrise with Jesus for eternity." We thank Thee for hope, Christian hope, which whispers "The best is yet to be." Amen.

REDSKINS BLANK BUNNIES; SHATTER HOPES FOR CROWN

Langhorne Defeats Bristol High by Score of 4 to 0

SCHNEIDER ON MOUND

Closterman Started for Bristol and Allowed Five Hits

LANGHORNE, May 7.—Bristol High's hope for a division championship of the Lower Bucks County was shattered yesterday afternoon as the Langhorne Redskins beat the Bunnies for the second time this season. Final score was: Langhorne, 4; Bristol High, 0.

Again "Inky" Schneider twirled the Redskins to the triumph as he limited Bristol to four hits. In their previous meeting, Bristol made three hits off Schneider. One of the Bristol hits was a triple by Paul Killian to start the fourth but the next three batters failed to get the ball out of the infield.

Gil Closterman started on the hill for Bristol and gave up five hits. Langhorne scored all its runs in the first two innings, being aided by two Bristol miscues.

FIFTH WARD SPORTERS TRIM DEMOCRAT NINE

Rallying for eight runs in the fourth inning, the Fifth Ward Sporting Club chalked up its first victory of the Bristol Suburban League, trimming the Democrat Club, 10-3, last evening on Leedom's field, before a large crowd.

Until the Fifth Ward uprising, the score was deadlocked at 2-2 and Henry Cordisco and Jack Schaffe were mixed up in a nice duel. But 14 Fifth Ward batters stepped up to the plate to score the eight tallies. Cordisco allowed six hits and fanned seven batters.

Table with 2 columns: Player, Stats (AB, R, H, O, A, E). Rows include T. Tosti, Biancosini, Pappaterra, Pica, Calone, Dimidio, Marucci, Mancini, H. Cordisco.

"Eddie" Eschuncko hurled for the Legion and gave up seven safe smacks. He appeared in good form as he whiffed 7 batters. "Herbie" Yates connected for a double and pair of singles to lead the winners with the stick.

FUR WORKERS WIN OVER GOODWILL; BRAGG ON MOUND

Bragg Relieves Johnson in First and Blanks Firemen For Six Innings

FINAL SCORE IS 7 TO 5

Fur Workers' Moundsman Was in Hole Several Times But Dug Himself Out

With "Loggie" Bragg starring in a relief role, the Fur Workers aggregation won out over the Goodwill Hose Company team last evening on the latter's field. Final score was 7-5.

Bragg relieved Hardy Johnson in the first inning and blanked the firemen for six frames. During this stretch he struck out eight batters and allowed but three hits. Several times, misplays by his mates put the Fur Workers' moundsman in a hole but he was equal to the task and retired the side without scoring.

The tilt started out to be a scoring bee as the fur workers scored four times in their first time at the plate and the hosemen came back to score a quintet of markers.

But after the first it was a pitcher's duel between Bragg and Joe McDevitt.

Stops Years of Gas and Bloat

"FOR 10 years I was a victim of gas and bloat caused, I believe, by my constipation," said one lady who had tried many things for her trouble. She continued by saying: "I was full of gas all the time. Stomach was swollen. Why, I took more soda for this gas than a bakery shop. My stomach was simply raw from soda. But thanks to ERB-HELP, now all my gas bloating is gone. This medicine also has a fine action on a person's bowels. I only had to take 2 bottles and I feel like a new person!"

ERB-HELP is the new formula containing medicinal juices from 12 Great Herbs; these herbs cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering. Get Erb-Help. Sold by All Drug Stores here in Bristol.—(Advertisement)—
